This medication, to control functions in the body, is just that - a medication. The fact that it can eliminate so many unwanted pregnancies is a blessing.

Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. This matter is not about religion. It is a choice women should not be denied by male dominated interests. this is a means for women to improve their life choices and decrease their health risks. If men can have insurance coverage for erectile dysfunction it is ridiculous to prevent women to have free access to birth control.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. I live in the lower income level of society. Access to cheap or free birth control is very important. I have seen too many children born into hostile environments, not to mention women faced with the abortion tragedy. Education and access is a must. If anyone is anti abortion they really must be pro birth control. Common sense.

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. Women have a right to determine if and when they have children. They should not be penalized because they cannot afford the medication. Many other medications are provided free of charge when a person cannot afford them. Contraceptives should not be singled out. This is not a "public aid" issue it also affects women who may not even be able to afford an insurance deductible.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. After a long time being a nurse and a woman I have found so many reasons for birth control. The need to protect women in many different circumstances including rape or abuse, incest, a bad time for a family, ability to have a family or should say ability to support a family, health, and so many more reasons to give women the ability to take birth control. A very important thing is the right to make decisions for yourself and to be totally honest by taking birth control away a woman loses that choice. Having the ability to get birth control not only improves a woman's 'rights' but also protects children from being born into unwanted situations and what happens to many, many children. There are not enough homes for them all and that is a fact. Protect woman, children, futures by making birth control available to all!!

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. The argument against birth control is a religious one, specifically coming from the Catholic Church. It has no logical base, and it's not even consistent across Catholics, many of whom practice birth control. We should not let a minority of vocal conservatives run our country, on this issue or any other. Don't we have a majority rule? Don't we have separation of church and state? The use of contraceptives protects not only women but the children who would otherwise be born into poverty or unwanted or an otherwise compromised life. Do Catholics support additional aid to dependent children? Are they willing to adopt children who are the result of unplanned pregnancies? Here's a deal for ACA: No coverage of contraception, no coverage of Viagra.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. Free, unfettered access to appropriate birth control is a basic human right for anyone, particularly women. Without it, girls and women are practically sentenced to a life of poverty and deprivation as they try to raise more children than they can afford, often without supportive partners. With it, girls and women are more capable of reaching their full potential and applying their hard-earned intelligence and skills to the myriad demands of life in the 21st century. Therefore, I urge you and all US lawmakers to stand up to rightwing, religious activists who would take women back to a more limited era, when their choices were so often determined by their biology. It doesn't have to be that way, and in this day and age, it MUST not be! Thank you.

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. I graduated from high school in 1973, in the time of Roe vs Wade. I was very grateful for the right to have a safe and legal abortion in 1978. I cannot believe that 40 years later we are still fighting so to safeguard a woman's control over her most intimate domain, her body. I now have a 20 year old daughter. The issues of personal choice and access to safe and effective birth control will never go away. Hopefully the fight to secure such will. Please continue to keep our daughters choices affordable and in their own hands.

If they do not want to use birth control personally that is their decision, but they have no right to deny it to others whom they employ. The use of birth control is personal and private and none of the business of any employer.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Dear Mr. President, The 1st amendment statement; Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; is pretty straight forward. This protection of individual's rights, to exercise our beliefs, without infringement from others (Even churches or groups we belong to) is of utmost importance. These groups have no right under our laws to limit the freedom of their members or employees. The large majority of U.S. citizens agree with the use of birth control as standard medical care. To limit access to standard medical care for individuals, in support of any religious organization, is in contradiction with the 1st amendment. If violation of our 1st amendment rights is not enough, the proposed limitation by the Catholic church even contradict the beliefs of the Christian faith. Individuals must CHOOSE to follow the teachings of Christ. To follow them only because of law or some financial penalty imposed by an employer will not help someone to reach the kingdom of heaven. Please continue this fight for individual freedom and help protect those who are not in a position to buy representation in our government.

It seems that the right-wing is against funding single mothers and their children, yet they want to make sure there are more children in poverty. Not only does this not make sense, it's unfair to the children.

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. Women, and girls, due to the epidemic of teen pregnancies in the U.S. must have access to birth control. Way too many babies are being born to people who don't want them and don't know how to take care of them, nurture them, and love them. Beyond that, everyone should be able to determine his or her family size.

Women should have the right and the help' if needed' to make decisions regarding their own health' especially the choices regarding birth control and abortion. To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. This is not only a health issue for many women who need birth control for cysts, but also to prevent unwanted pregnancies...many of which would have to be funded by the government/taxpayers in the form of medicaid, food stamps, loss of work for the mother, etc. This would also lead to more abortions if that is what the mother chooses...preventing the pregnancy in the first place is by far the better option for the mother and our nation.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

My wife and I, now in our seventies, both used appropriate birth control to limit ourselves to two children, which constitutes replacement and does not add to the major cause of most of the world's woes, that is, overpopulation. Without worldwide birth control, the lives of most are soon doomed due to diminution of resources for an unsustainable world population.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. I am an Orthodox Christian and most people would probably assume I want to take away that right for other women. Absolutely not. It is my free choice to use or not use birth control, just like I believe it is someone else's personal choice that neither I nor any other person has a right to deny.

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. I am Catholic, but I do not accept or believe in the Church's opposition to birth control. I firmly believe that it is immoral to deny contraceptives to rape victims. I do not believe that Catholic or other religious institutions should be forced to violate their conscience. But I also do not believe that one's religious beliefs should be enforced on others.

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. It is imperative that this rule be included so as to prevent needless unwanted pregnancies and to more completely protect the healthcare rights of women. The provision transferring costs to third party insurance companies from employers more than adequately protects those who protest contraception on religious grounds.

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. I believe without this act we will see women, especially teens, will either give birth to unwanted children; or, will not have the funds to seek termination of their pregnancies. Both the econmic and social impact in the US will be considerable in these cases. Sinderely, Lisa J. Eliassen 58 Burnham Street, #1 Watertown, MA 02472

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. Is this the same church that protected priests that violated young boys and yet demands that a women's right to basic health care be denied?

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. These are people who want to control the lives of their fellow citizens. And by trying to criminalize birth control they are actually breaking the law themselves—because practicing medicine without a license is illegal. This is because birth control is often prescribed for medical reasons, and not just to control menstrual pain. There are women who have been told for medical reasons, such as for hypertension or diabetes, that they cannot risk having children; that to do so would be suicidal. Violating one's marital vows is not an option and birth control becomes the least "evil" choice. I know many such women, especially us older folks in our 40s and 50s who are still in childbearing years but have health issues. President Obama, please continue to stand by us and continue to ensure access to birth control—it's the humane thing to do.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. As a Christian mother of 3 children, I understand the thoughts and beliefs of some people who think that birth control contradicts concepts implied in the Bible and I also understand the responsibilities of being a mother. Further, I know what it is like to be a female, married or not married, in a society where sexual relations between men and women have become "expected" as expressions of affection and "desired" as a means to fulfill certain physical "needs"; and, I'm absolutely sure that these "expectations" and "needs" are NOT going away. Because of this realization, I find it very difficult to understand why anyone would deny women the right to control whether or not they become pregnant ... particularly when this affects the way women are able to show their affection to a man and even enjoy their physical "connection" with a man. What I find even more disconcerting is that it is typically MEN who want to deny women access to birth control when they remain ready, willing and able to acquire/obtain medical, surgical and mechanical methods to proceed in fulfilling their own personal, physical and psychological needs without any governmental control. Why are men able to buy pills or other medications to INDUCE their sexual drive and desire, and have vasectomies to protect themselves from causing pregnancies; yet, they want to DENY women the same abilities? Further, it is recognized by everyone in America that it is the mother of a child who actually becomes mentally, emotionally and financially responsible for that child for the entire life of that child. Sooo, for all these reasons, it is essential for each woman to have the right to access/acquire birth control!!

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. Statistics state we have less crime per population then the 1950's due primarily to contraceptives use in post decades. With the use of birth control there has been a large absent population of unwanted children who have not been neglected and raised in desperate homes who could create social damage in later life.

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. I personally need birth control for my medical condition, PCOS. Without it, the condition could cause me severe medical issues, and possibly lead to a hysterectomy. At age 17/18. Birth control is for more than just safe sex – some people NEED it for their own health! Keep this act running!

The republicans and the Catholic church have no right to demand that we leave our rights in the hands of a church especially since we are all from different cultures and science is alive and well. Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. My own comment: This isn't only a women's rights issue. The effects of unwanted pregnancies and births are far-reaching. In addition to a number of social consequences, there are certainly economic consequences, many of which translate to government expense. You'd think that Republicans and other fiscal conservatives would understand that.

RE: Docket ID: CMS-2012-0031

To Whom it May Concern:

I was a graduate student at the University of Notre Dame for 5 years. During that time, my health insurance was managed through the university as part of a research fellowship. I could not have afforded to purchase alternate health insurance which would have covered birth control and had to pay out of pocket for contraception. After a very judgemental yearly gynecological visit at the university health center during my first months there, I also opted to get all of my women's health care needs elsewhere (at planned parenthood). During that time, my political and religious beliefs were in no way aligned with that of my employer and the cost of that difference fell to me. Requiring women to pay more for their health is discriminatory. Women deserve access to reproductive health care at no cost, no matter their political beliefs. Please protect us.

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. Right wing opposition to providing birth control to all is absurd. All employers should be obligated to provide the same health care, regardless of the employers personal beliefs. No person is ever forced to take birth control if it against their beliefs, but they should not be allowed to impose their beliefs on their employees.

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. As has been shown repeatedly in studies of women in all walks of life, the single biggest option women need to do good, productive work with their lives is the ability to control their fertility. We've seen it in third world countries, we've seen it in American ghettos. Wanted children, planned children are better cared for, better educated and both they and their mothers have better chances of keeping themselves out of severe poverty. Please offer this opportunity to all women here in our own country.

To Whom it May Concern:

Thank you for the new the Affordable Care Act rules on contraception, which ensure that women have access to no-cost birth control. Please continue to protect this access, regardless of the right-wing opposition. PLEASE LET NOTHING STOP THIS FROM STAYING A LAW! NOT ONLY IS IT AN ECONOMIC ISSUE,FOR WOMEN TO BE ABLE TO HAVE BIRTH CONTROL,SO THEY CAN WORK,TAKE CARE OF OTHER CHILDREN THEY MAY HAVE,IT IS ALSO VERY,VERY MUCH AN ISSUE OF PREVENTING THOUSANDS OF UNWANTED BABIES FROM BEING BORN! SO OFTEN,AS RIGHT HERE,IN THIS LITTLE FARM TOWN,WHERE WE HAVE AT LEAST A DOZEN CASES OF THIS,WHERE UNMARRIED GIRLS HAVE TWO OR THREE BABIES BY DIFFERENT MEN,THEN CAN'T WORK,AND OFTEN LEAVE THE KIDS ALONE SO THEY CAN GO OUT.IN MOST CASES,IF ANY CARE IS GIVEN,IT HAS BEEN GRANDPARENTS DOING WHAT THEY CAN.ALL THESE GIRLS LIVEN THE"DOLE",AND THESE LITTLE BABIES HAVE NOT ONE CHANCE AT ANY LIFE,EXCEPT A REPEAT OF THEIR MOTHERS.THESE FOLKS WHO DON'T WANT WOMEN TO HAVE BIRTH CONTROL,SHOULD BE FORCED TO ADOPT CHILDREN LIKE THESE! Then you would see them minding their OWN BUSINESS! Same can be said for Abortion,as it is the business of only the women and her family,to decide if they can care for an child,or not,especially in the case of a baby they find is going to be severely handicapped.That is NOT "culling"out the disabled,as that crazy Rick Santorum said! It is keeping a child from being born to a sometimes horrible life,which should NOT be done to anyone!
